Battlecry - nujabes feat. Shing02

Okay, technically it's not really from a game, but there was the PS2 game based on the anime, and this song naturally made an appearance in it, so I say it counts! :P

But in all seriousness when I'd heard the news from DDR legend Mel B that one of this song's composers, Seba 'nujabes' Jun had died in a car crash last month, I was definitely saddened to hear the news... I always loved this opening theme to the Samurai Champloo anime, it really set the tone for the 'Hip-Hop meets feudal Japan' setting from the anime and the game. Two lone samurai wind up crossing paths in a local eatery which happens to be waitressed by the young Fuu, and things just go downhill from there and the trio winds up getting into all kinds of trouble.

(That is, when they're not trying to outright kill each other!!)
