Not that brave either.

Today's track is Rare Hero from Ridge Racer

It's Ridge Racer! RIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIDGE RAACEEEEEER!

Ok, enough with the memes, Ridge Racer is actually a pretty awesome arcade-type racing game. And probably has one of my favorite soundtracks ever (especially Ridge Racer V), Rare Hero is my favorite song of the whole list though. It feels like a car, it starts slow and steady and then it starts building up turning out to be a very happy and energetic song. It really helps you keep focus on the track and what you're doing, and I really like that in a racing game soundtrack. It has a lot of remixes through out the series and it was also featured on Taiko No Tatsujin (Taiko Drum Master in America) and it shows, it's a really awesome song.
