Video Stumble is back with some high speed dancing at high speed driving!

This time on Video Stumble we have an OLRmy member, letshavetea, doing a pretty awesome stunt, playing DDR on the back of a pick-up truck. The video shows how he made the whole setup to be able to do so and the modifications he had to do to the truck itself. And kids, if you plan to do this, please don't, or at least not unsupervised, even letshavetea had some help.

Pretty nice, don't you think? Be sure to check letshavetea's YouTube channel for the bloopers!
