

Original: {audio}<http://angry-gamers.com/music/bumblebee.mp3>{/audio}

SVTG version: {audio}<http://angry-gamers.com/music/bumble.mp3>{/audio}

Yeah, okay. This was just an excuse to feature the Rob Roberts parody cover of everyone's favorite 3rd MIX+/ITG license, Bambee's Bumble Bee! The cover is just one of those things you can't unhear, and you'll never hear the original the same way again! As mentioned earlier it also made an appearance on DDR's only competition, In The Groove. Interestingly it featured different steps and a longer cut of the song, compared to its 3rd MIX+ counterpart.

But back in the day, when the hosts used to hijack the stream 'cause we fuckin' feel like it) Rob Roberts used to do these 'ddr parody sing-alongs' and this was probably his most memorable performance. Affectionately known as the 'skie's voice: the game' edit, it was written by two of the shows fans at the time. It would eventually go down in the history books as one of OLR's fondest memories. Check it out now in Orange Lounge Revolution!

And if you liked this pick, stay tuned till Saturday when I celebrate a special pair of days to BEMANI fans such as myself.... see you then!