Hey everyone, Bresslol from USL here! You guys know what time it is:

I am in charge of running our annual start-of-year, best-video-game-of-all-time tournament, something we call the MADNESS tournament. And by in charge, I mean I just oversee things. This tournament is decided by YOU, the fans!

Here's now the nominations phase works:

Every December, I ask our fans to reach out to us and give us a list of their top 25 games of all time, in order from 1-25. Any game is allowed, but there are rules to which games you can nominate:

- The game must have been released on or before December 1st, 2010.

- Some games will be considered as a series (Examples: Rock Band, DDR, Guitar Hero, Pokemon). If you nominate multiple games in that series, you will be asked to add new games.

To nominate games, send your top 25 list to uslmadness@gmail.com by January 3rd, 2011. Once nominations close, brackets will be announced soon after.

The top 96 games this year will go onto the bracket round and will be in consideration for the coveted Title of Madness Champion, joining games such as Super Metroid, Super Mario Brothers 3, and, most recently, Chrono Trigger.
