

{audio}http://angry-gamers.com/music/destiny.mp3{/audio}
(It's in OLRev 2nd MIX, if you want it!)

Back when we first started on Live365, we featured both songs from Konami's rhythm games as well as other selections from Toshiba EMI's 'Dancemania' series (as many of those songs also found their way into DDR)

Had Konami included this song in DDR, it would most likely have been my favorite license ever. But alas, that slot went to JOGA's latest cookie-cutter sound-alike with the same melody as every other song....

But instead of going off on a rant about that i'll tell you more about this song. Appearing on the first 'FantasiA' compilation amidst other trancy tracks like 'So Deep' by Silvertear and 'Ghosts' by Vincent De Moor, this one had to have been my favorite. featuring a great trance beat as well as some stellar violin work by the asian virtuoso, I knew when I was selecting tracks that this song had to be on the tracklist for 2nd MIX.

But, if you're looking for a song you might have heard of, stick around for friday's pick, and just be glad you don't also have to remember how to do the dance for this particular selection...