DarkSakura and myself were lucky to have a last minute opportunity to attend Video Games Live in Oakland this weekend!

Be sure to tune into tonight's episode, episode 315, to hear our full thoughts on the performance, including the debut of a new Chrono Trigger/Cross piece that Tommy Tallarico says is the "most requested song" in the years that Video Games Live has been in existence.

Also be sure to check our OLRmy picture feed for some pictures that Jamie took at the show-- she got to be in the front row!
