(Pretty sure she wouldn't want me distributing her music illegally, so yeah, sorry I cant have you downloading it.)

If you heard this week's OLR, the classic game was the PSX sequel to the original Parappa the Rapper, Umjammer Lammy! Perhaps my favorite selection from that game was this song, the final stage music. But this particular version is neat because it also features a part where Parappa gets to bust out some trademark raps, in addition to Lammy's epic guitar work.

Don't forget to hit up myself or act_deft on twitter if you have a request for a song you want to see! And don't forget to tune in next month for more surprises as we celebrate OLR's 9th year of broadcasting!
