First, we'll see the Space Core.

And now let's see the inspiration for it.

This Oregon Coast Aquarium commercial is what inspired the Space Core. After some of the people working on Portal 2 saw the commercial, they pretty much took the idea and placed it into the personality core, but instead of being obsessed with aquariums, he's into SPACE! And considering how the ending turns out, it pretty much fits way better .

By the way if you want to learn more cool tidbits and information about the development of Portal 2, check out The Final Hours of Portal 2. You can buy it on the Apple App store and on Steam
