

I love that song! - Let's ride!

Written by act_deft
Friday, 14 August 2009 11:17

I like the future, it's so neon.

Today's track is Neon Night-Riders from Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: Turtles in Time

{audio}http://www.angry-gamers.com/music/15_-_neon_night-riders.mp3{/audio} Please note due to copyright issues I can not make this song available for you to download directly.

I haven't met a person in the whole world who hasn't liked Turtles in Time. It was seriously one of the greatest arcade games back in the day, and possibly one of the best Beat'em Ups to date. But of course, what's a great game without great music. Turtles in Time offers a pretty good soundtrack through out the whole game, but I think the most memorable one is Neon Night-Riders. Simply because it truly fits the futuristic setting of the level and it's also a very catchy tune. Of course there's also the SNES and XBLA version, but I think the arcade version is the superior one. But whichever version you like, you must agree that this is truly a great song.

If you have a request for us to post on "I love that song" or just simply wanna comment on today's pick, please leave us a comment here or hit us up on Twitter @olr , @Deekman , @Darktetsuya or me,

@act_deft

!