This IS a triumph!

Today's track is Still Alive from Portal (composed by Jonathan Coulton)

This is no lie, "I love that song!" makes its return to OLR after a long hiatus and were back with a real treat!

Another really awesome thing that's coming back this year is the sequel of the highly successful and acclaimed game of 2007, Portal, and what better way to celebrate that by listening to its so lovely and catchy (and kinda crazy) theme song "Still Alive". It's sang by the game's antagonist, GLaDOS, the crazy A.I. that is trying to kill you throughout all the game. The song while the tune is pretty calmed, the lyrics are truly funny, and they should be since the song was composed by the famous and nerdy songwriter Jonathan Coulton, who's also making a song for the sequel, so what's not to like?

I love that song - This update is definitely not a lie!
