Why is everybody talking about soup?

Seriously speaking though, SOPA can change the internet as we know it, and I'm not talking about it in a good way...

Today's track is Background Music #2 from Mario Paint!

Please note due to copyright issues I can not make this song available for you to download directly. Or in Soviet Russia, SOPA EATS YOU.

Mario Paint, what a wonderful yet simplistic game. It lets you draw, color and even create music and animations, all in your SNES. The background music wasn't the most vast, it only had like a handful of tracks, but all of them make the game quite enjoyable. The most popular track has to be the one from the Fly Swatter game, but my personal favorite is BGM #2 (I really don't know if the track has a real track name or not, sorry).

It's quite relaxing, enjoyable, and somewhat inspiring. Pretty much the reason why I choose it as my background for my SOPA message.
