

There is much to talk about with our live audience tonight thanks to recent press events from Microsoft, Activision and EA. Dead Rising 2, Halo Reach, Game Room, Perfect Dark... it is all here! Sadly not all the news is good, as Activision scales back music game production, resulting in some surprising and sentimental closures. On a different note (literally), a new Wii game will allow you to kill zombies with your guitar with special guest star Neil Patrick Harris, but is it a little too close to the game that inspired it? In Part B tonight, the news continues with a barrage of iPhone game updates during our quick news section, and a surprising story on continued Wii shortages. Three years later, whats up with that? A story on a busted pirate gets our studio heated up with discussion on piracy, and later during the phone calls, one far far away listener challenges us to think of what the idea to fix it all is. All this and MUCH MORE including chatroom antics, twitter topics, e-mails and more on the show where EVERY gamer has a voice-- Orange Lounge Radio!
