

This weeks episode gets off to a weird start with bandwidth issues but it is all part of the joys of live radio. We get into discussion about piracy developments with an ESA report and a R4 lawsuit update. On top of all this, we have further details on Ubisofts new DRM making waves, and an upcoming PSP game requiring online activation brings lots of opinions in studio and live in our chatroom. In Part B, we talk a bit about iPhone gaming developments including certain games getting pulled from the store as well as a strange new port of a very current games. We like the idea of a long demo, and Darksiders does not disappoint with an estimated demo well over an hour in length. A very very strange erotic game takes our show into the toilet... or bathtub... we really are not sure. We also may have poked fun at Leona Lewis a little bit. Sorry bout that. All this and MORE including your live chatroom antics, phone calls, e-mails, twitter topics and MORE on the show where EVERY gamer has a voice- Orange Lounge Radio! [EXPLICIT] due to discussion on an adult game in part B getting a little extreme.
