It's the 15th anniversary of Orange Lounge Radio! On this special episode of our show, we look back at the past 15 years of gaming and reflect on some of the biggest changes. We have to focus on the future as well though, as E3 gave us much to look forward to between Sony and Nintendo. We cover the rest of the news, and take a LOT of calls from listeners! Thank you to all our listeners new and old, for your tremendous support of our show for 15 years!

Also in the news:

* IO Interactive goes independent

* More info on Super Mario Land (Theme Park)

* Discord to Nintendo Switch?

* Voice actor strike impacts Life is Strange prequel
