

We return this week to news of a "new" 3DS. What do we think of the name, and the new perks that it will bring? Do any of the hosts or the live chatters plan on picking one up? Also, Sony has a special press event in Japan where it is announced that themes will be coming to the Playstation 4, but is this the feature that the Playstation needs most of all? These news stories and more come this week after a brief Dragon Con report from Rob, and some reminiscing about the Dreamcast, with the 15th anniversary of it's US release coming up this week.
