The price for the Oculus Rift was announced this week, which surprised some people based on earlier statements made about the price of the device. We discuss if this price is REALLY that surprising, and how Playstation VR might compare (or not). Hey there's good news if you were an early backer of the device though! Also, in other news tonight, has DRM finally become too hard "to crack"? We always thought hackers were gonna hack... but could those days be over as far as game cracking is concerned?

Also in the news:

- * NX Rumors

- * Super Mario Maker DLC that's also a bit of an advertisement

- * Trademark of "Let's Play"

- * No 2016 Assassin's Creed, Watch Dogs 2 instead?
